“Voters are still feeling the pain of the rising cost of living and need more help from Congress. Ending lawsuit abuse by ambulance lawyers who are driving up the cost of insurance is the best place for Congress to start.” - Greg Strimble, President at GS Strategy Group

76% of voters say their cost-of-living has gone up, and even more say Congress has done a poor job holding down costs.

Over the last year, would you say that your cost-of-living has gone up, gone down, or stayed basically the same?

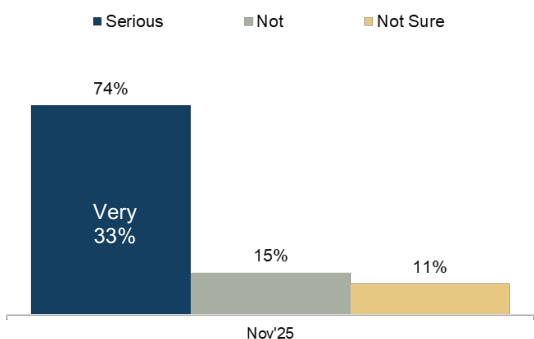

How would you rate the job the Congress has done holding down the cost-of-living for American families?

Insurance fraud and lawsuit abuse are viewed as big problems and a major factor driving up the cost of goods and services for Americans.

How serious a problem is insurance fraud in the United States?

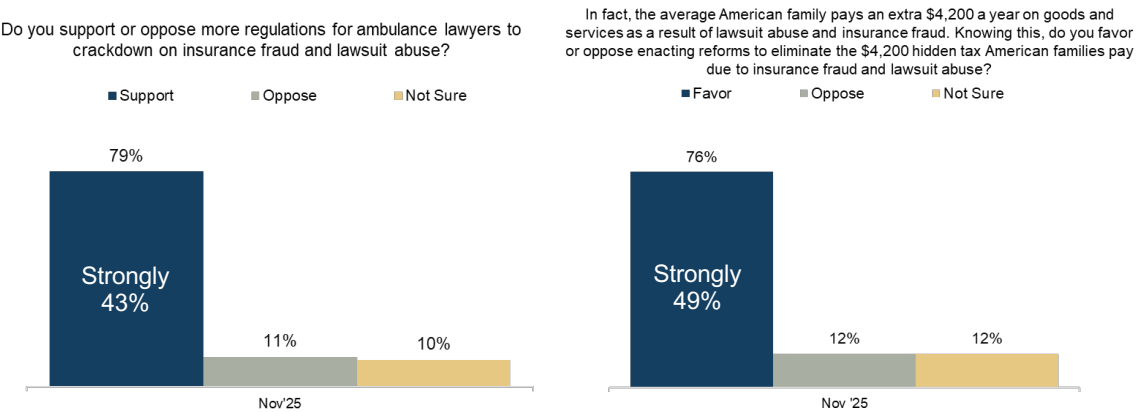

How serious a problem is lawsuit abuse in the United States?

Agree/Disagree with the following statement: Lawsuit abuse drives up the costs of goods and services for American families.

To battle these growing costs, voters strongly support regulation on ambulance lawyers and reforms to end the hidden tax...

...And other key pieces of legislation – providing Congress an opportunity to give voters much needed economic relief.

The American Consumer Savings Act aims to bring down the costs of food, insurance, transportation, and healthcare by ending lawsuit abuse in America.

The Lawsuit Abuse Reduction Act restores accountability to the legal system by providing penalties for filing baseless, meritless and frivolous lawsuits. It imposes monetary sanctions against lawyers who file frivolous lawsuits, including the attorney's fees and costs incurred by the victim of the frivolous lawsuit.

The formation of a Department of Justice taskforce to investigate staged accident fraud cases where ambulance lawyers and their network of medical providers recruit victims to fake their injuries and then inflate their treatment needs to boost lawsuit payouts.

These cost-of-living issues are potent among voters heading into the midterms.

If you knew your member of Congress voted to protect ambulance attorneys instead of cracking down on insurance fraud and lawsuit abuse, would you be more likely or less likely to reelect them?
